ClearVue Board Update and Expenditure Review

Innovative solar façade company initiates comprehensive program to align business model, operations, product advancements and management plans to maximize long-term performance.

HIGHLIGHTS

- ClearVue undertakes a root and branch review of expenses
- Mr Charles (Chuck) Mowrey resigns from the Board

14 July 2025: After recent board and executive leadership updates, ClearVue Technologies Limited (ASX: CPV | OTC: CVUEF) (ClearVue or the Company) announced today the Company is immediately implementing a wide-ranging initiative to review its operational spending to identify cost savings while prioritizing advancement of product development and growth of licensee and business development partners. A comprehensive expense analysis will evaluate each budget line item to ensure that the Company's investments are strategically allocated to maximise shareholder value and support ongoing improvements in organisational performance.

ClearVue Interim CEO, Mr. Douglas Hunt, commented:

"This comprehensive expense review is in collaboration with the newly restructured Board and our shareholders, with the objective of positioning the Company for long-term sustainable growth. We are committed to responsible operational management to enhance shareholder value with thorough expenditure analysis, continuous product innovation, and steady revenue growth, supported by our expanding global network of licensees and manufacturing partners. The initiative will support ClearVue's mission to dramatically decrease the carbon impact of the built environment while increasing building thermal efficiency and renewable energy generation. We will communicate the results of this initiative to the market in the coming weeks."
