Ineligible Shareholders

Unless the Directors determine otherwise, the Offers are not being extended and any New Shares will not be issued to Shareholders with a registered address which is outside Australia, New Zealand and Bermuda. It is not practicable for the Company to comply with the securities laws of overseas jurisdictions (other than those mentioned above) having regard to the number of overseas Shareholders, the number and value of New Shares those Shareholders would be offered and the cost of complying with regulatory requirements in each relevant jurisdiction.

No action has been taken to permit the offer of New Shares under this Offer Document in any jurisdiction other than Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda. The distribution of this Offer Document in jurisdictions outside Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda may be restricted by law and therefore persons outside of Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda and into whose possession this document comes should seek advice on, and observe any such, restrictions. Applications from Shareholders with a registered address in a jurisdiction other than Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda will not be accepted.

This Offer Document does not constitute an offer of New Shares in any jurisdiction where, or to any person to whom, it would be unlawful to issue this Offer Document.

Notice to nominees and custodians

Shareholders with an address on the Share register in Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda holding Shares on behalf of persons who are resident in other jurisdictions are responsible for ensuring that taking up any New Shares does not breach regulations in the relevant jurisdiction. Payment by BPAY® or EFT in accordance with the instructions provided in the Acceptance Form will be taken by the Company to constitute a representation that there has been no breach of those regulations.

The Company is not required to determine whether or not any registered holder is acting as a nominee or custodian or the identity or residence of any beneficial owners of Shares. Where any holder is acting as a nominee for a foreign person, that holder, in dealing with its beneficiary, will need to assess whether indirect participation by the beneficiary in the Entitlement Offer is compatible with applicable foreign laws. The Company is not able to advise on foreign laws. Eligible Shareholders who are nominees, trustees or custodians are therefore advised to seek independent advice as to how to proceed.

1. Details of the Offers

1.1 The Entitlement Offer

The Company is making a non-renounceable pro-rata entitlement offer of New Shares at an issue price of $0.48 each, on the basis of one (1) New Share for every ten (10) Shares held by Eligible Shareholders on the Record Date, in accordance with section 708AA of the Corporations Act, to raise approximately $7 million (before costs) (Entitlement Offer).

On 21 July 2025, the Company announced a $12 million capital raising comprising a $5 million private placement to institutional and sophisticated investors to issue 10,320,000 Shares at an issue price of $0.48 each, being the same issue price as the Entitlement Offer (Placement). The issue of Shares pursuant to the Placement is expected to occur on 29 July 2025, being after the Record Date for the Entitlement Offer. Accordingly, investors in the Placement are not Eligible Shareholders for the purposes of the Entitlement Offer.

The proceeds from the Entitlement Offer and Placement will be used by the Company for completion of the Company's Feasibility Study and further exploration drilling at its 100% owned Gum Greek Project (Project), the repayment of debt and for general working capital as outlined in Section 1.3.

The Company currently has approximately 144,839,923 Shares on issue and approximately 1,900,000 Options on issue. Assuming the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed, approximately 14.484 million New Shares will be issued under the Entitlement Offer (assuming no Options are exercised before the Record Date). If all of the Options are exercised before the Record Date, and assuming that the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed, a total of 14.674 million New Shares will be issued under the Entitlement Offer.

The Company's major shareholder, Zeta Resources Limited (and associates) and the Directors of the Company, intend to take up their Entitlements in full for a combined amount of $5,537,923

Where the determination of the Entitlement of any Eligible Shareholder results in a fraction of a New Share, such fraction will be rounded down to the nearest whole New Share.

All New Shares will rank equally with the Shares on issue at the date of this Offer Document. Refer to Section 4 for a summary of the rights attaching to New Shares.

This Offer Document is also for the offer of the Shortfall Shares. Refer to Section 1.27 for further information and details of the Shortfall Offer.

1.3 Use of funds

If the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed, in total approximately $12 million will be raised from both the Entitlement Offer and Placement (before costs and assuming no Options are exercised before the Record Date). This is allowing for approximately $7 million (before costs) to be raised under the Entitlement Offer and approximately $5 million (before costs) to be raised under the Placement.

The funds raised from the Entitlement Offer and Placement are proposed to be applied as follows:

|---|---------------------|
| Feasibility Study | $3,660,000 |
| Ongoing exploration, evaluation and drilling activities | $5,540,000 |
| Repayment of debt ¹ | $1,000,000 |
| General and administration costs | $660,000 |
| General working capital | $495,916 |
| Costs of the Placement and Entitlement Offers | $550,000 |
| Total funds raised under the Offers | $11,905,916 |

Note: 1. The repayment of debt will be for a loan owed to Zeta Resources Ltd. The debt may be set off against all or part of Zeta's Application Monies.

Actual expenditure may differ significantly from the above estimates due to a number of factors including market conditions, the development of new opportunities and other factors (including the risk factors outlined in Section 3).

If less than $7 million is raised pursuant to the Entitlement Offer, the Company will firstly pay the associated expenses of the Entitlement Offer and then scale back funds available for general working capital and exploration activities.

1.4 Capital structure on completion of the Entitlement Offer

| | Number of Shares | Number of Options |
|--|--------------------|--------------------------|
| Balance at the date of this Offer Document | 144,839,923 | 1,900,000 ⁽²⁾ |

Notes:

- (1) The maximum number of New Shares to be issued under the Entitlement Offer, assuming that the Entitlement Offer is fully subscribed and that no Options are exercised before the Record Date.
- (2) Comprising 1,900,000 unlisted Options exercisable at $0.33, expiring on 23 November 2026.

1.5 Entitlements and acceptance

The Entitlement of Eligible Shareholders to participate in the Entitlement Offer is determined on the Record Date. Your Entitlement is shown on the Entitlement and Acceptance Form accompanying this Offer Document.

A BPAY® or EFT payment in accordance with the instructions provided in the Entitlement and Acceptance Form to the Company creates a legally binding contract between the Applicant and the Company for the number of New Shares accepted by the Company.

The Entitlement and Acceptance Form does not need to be signed to be a binding acceptance of New Shares.

If the BPAY® or EFT payment is not completed in accordance with the instructions provided in the Entitlement and Acceptance Form, the Company may not be able to process or accept your Application for New Shares and any Application Monies received in connection with your Application will be returned to you (without interest).

1.6 Shortfall Shares

The Directors reserve the right, subject to any restrictions imposed by the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules, and other applicable law and regulation, to issue any remaining Shortfall Shares at their sole discretion, including to certain investors who are not Eligible Shareholders and have completed the Shortfall Acceptance Form upon invitation from the Company. See Section 1.27 for further details of the Shortfall Offer.

1.7 Substantial holders

At the date of this Offer Document, the Company has the following substantial holders:

| Holder | No. of Shares | Voting Power |
|---|---------------|--------------|
| Zeta Resources Limited (and associates) | 108,045,020 | 74.60% |

1.8 Effect on control

The potential effect that the Offers will have on the control of the Company and the consequences of that effect will depend on a number of factors, including the level of participation by Shareholders in the Offers.

Whilst the Entitlement Offer is not underwritten, the Company's major shareholder, Zeta Resources Limited (and associates) have confirmed that it intends to take up its full Entitlement in the Entitlement Offer.

The commitment of Zeta Resources Limited (and associates) represent approximately 74.60% (or ~$5.19 million) of the maximum approximate Entitlement Offer raising of $7.0 million.

The commitment of the Directors represent approximately 5.06% (or ~$0.35 million) of the maximum approximate Entitlement Offer raising of $7.0 million.

Based on these confirmations and assuming all Shares are issued pursuant to the Placement, the potential effect which the issue of New Shares pursuant to the Entitlement Offer will have on the control of the Company is as follows:

- (a) if all Eligible Shareholders take up their Entitlements under the Entitlement Offer, the New Shares issued under the Entitlement Offer will have no effect on the control of the Company;
- (b) in the more likely event that there is a shortfall in the Entitlement Offer, Eligible Shareholders who do not subscribe for their full Entitlement of New Shares under the Entitlement Offer will be diluted by a greater extent relative to those Eligible Shareholders who subscribe for some or all of their Entitlement, and will be diluted by any issue of Shortfall Shares; and
- (c) the Voting Power held in the Company by Zeta Resources Limited (and associates) could decrease from the current level of 74.60% to 71.30% (assuming that the only Entitlements taken up under the Entitlement Offer are the Entitlements of Zeta Resources Limited (and associates) and the Placement Shares are issued).

The impact of control of the Company as a result of the Offers will ultimately be affected by the level of Applications under the Offers. The final percentage interests held by Shareholders of the Company is dependent on the extent to which other Eligible Shareholders take up their Entitlement and whether any Shortfall Shares are issued.

No Shortfall Shares will be issued to any person if, in the view of the Directors, to do so would increase that investor's Voting Power in the Company above 19.9% or otherwise result in a breach of the Listing Rules, the Corporations Act or any other applicable law.

Shareholders should note that if they do not participate in the Entitlement Offer, their holdings in the Company will be diluted as a result of the Entitlement Offer (compared with your position before the Entitlement Offer), after the issue of New Shares under the Entitlement Offer.

The following are examples of how any dilution may impact you if you do not participate in the Entitlement Offer, assuming the maximum number of New Shares are issued and all Placement Shares are issued:

| Example Shareholder | Holdings as at Record Date | % at Record Date | Entitlements under the Entitlement Offer | Holdings if the Entitlement Offer not taken up | % post Offer ⁽¹⁾ |
|---------------------|----------------------------|------------------|--|--|-----------------------------|
| Shareholder 1 | 1,000,000 | 0.69% | 100,000 | 1,000,000 | 0.59% |
| Shareholder 2 | 500,000 | 0.35% | 50,000 | 500,000 | 0.29% |
| Shareholder 3 | 250,000 | 0.17% | 25,000 | 250,000 | 0.15% |
| Shareholder 4 | 100,000 | 0.07% | 10,000 | 100,000 | 0.06% |
| Shareholder 5 | 50,000 | 0.03% | 5,000 | 50,000 | 0.03% |

Note:

- (1) The dilutionary effect shown in the table is the maximum percentage on the assumption that any Entitlements not accepted are placed under the Shortfall Offer. If some or all Entitlements are not accepted and some or the entire resulting Shortfall was not subsequently placed, the dilution effect for each Shareholder not accepting their Entitlement would be a lesser percentage. The dilutionary effect also includes the impact from the Placement Shares being issued.

The information in this Section 1.8 is the Company's estimates only, based on the information available to it. Actual outcomes may vary.

The relevant interest of each Director in the Securities of the Company at the date of this Offer Document, together with their respective Entitlements, is detailed in the table below:

Application will be made to the ASX for the official quotation of the New Shares on ASX. If the ASX does not grant quotation of the New Shares within three (3) months after the date of this Offer Document (or such period as ASX allows), no New Shares will be issued and the Company will repay, as soon as practicable, without interest, all Application Monies received pursuant to the Offers.

ASX takes no responsibility for the contents of this Offer Document. The fact that ASX may grant quotation of the New Shares is not to be taken in any way as an indication of the merits of the Company or the New Shares.

1.16 No cooling off rights

Cooling off rights do not apply to an investment in New Shares. You cannot withdraw an application once it has been accepted.

1.17 Rights and liabilities

The Shares offered under this Offer Document will rank equally in respect of dividends and have the same rights in all other respects (e.g. voting, bonus issues) as existing Shares.

- having a registered address, on the Company's share register, in Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda;

- not in the United States and are not acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States (to the extent such person holds Shares for the account or benefit of such person in the United States); and
- eligible under all applicable securities laws to receive an offer under the Offers without any requirement for a prospectus or disclosure document to be lodged or registered,

(Eligible Shareholders).

If you are a Shareholder who does not satisfy each of the criteria listed above, you are an “Ineligible Shareholder” (refer to Section 1.21). Where the Offer Document has been despatched to Ineligible Shareholders, the Offer Document is provided for information purposes only. The Company reserves the right to determine whether a Shareholder is an Eligible Shareholder or an Ineligible Shareholder.

New Zealand

The New Shares are not being offered or sold to the public within New Zealand other than to existing Shareholders of the Company with registered addresses in New Zealand to whom the offer of New Shares is being made in reliance on the Financial Markets Conduct (Incidental Offers) Exemption Notice 2016.

This document has been prepared in compliance with Australian law and has not been registered, filed with or approved by any New Zealand regulatory authority under the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013. This document is not a product disclosure statement under New Zealand law and is not required to, and may not, contain all the information that a product disclosure statement under New Zealand law is required to contain.

Bermuda

No offer or invitation to subscribe for New Shares may be made to the public in Bermuda. The New Shares will be offered in Bermuda only to existing Shareholders. No invitation is being made to persons resident in Bermuda for exchange control purposes to subscribe for New Shares.

The investment to which this document relates is available only to relevant persons. Any person who is not a relevant person should not act or rely on this document.

1.21 Ineligible Shareholders

Unless the Directors determine otherwise, no Offer will be made to Shareholders with a registered address outside Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda (Ineligible Shareholders).

The Company is of the view that it is unreasonable to make the Offers to Shareholders outside Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda due to a small number of such Shareholders and the number and value of New Shares these Shareholders would be offered, the cost of complying with applicable regulations in jurisdictions outside Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda and the administrative burden that will place on the Company in making the Offers available to Shareholders outside Australia, New Zealand or Bermuda.

This Offer Document and accompanying Entitlement and Acceptance Form do not, nor are they intended to, constitute an offer in any place in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an Offer.

1.22 Taxation implications

The Directors do not consider it appropriate to give Shareholders advice regarding the taxation consequences of subscribing for New Shares under this Offer Document. The Company, its advisers and its officers do not accept any responsibility or liability for any such taxation consequences to Shareholders.

Shareholders should consult their professional tax adviser in connection with subscribing for New Shares under this Offer Document.

1.23 Risk factors

An investment in New Shares should be regarded as speculative. In addition to the general risks applicable to all investments in listed securities, there are specific risks associated with an investment in the Company which are described in Section 3.

1.24 Continuous disclosure obligations

The Company is a "disclosing entity" (as defined in section 111AC of the Corporations Act) for the purposes of the Corporations Act and its Shares are enhanced disclosure securities quoted on ASX and, as such, the Company is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations under the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules.

Specifically, the Company is required to notify ASX of information about specific events and matters as they arise for the purposes of ASX making that information available to the securities markets conducted by the ASX. In particular, the Company has an obligation under the Listing Rules (subject to certain exceptions) to notify the ASX immediately of any information of which it is aware, or becomes aware, which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price of value of its securities.

This Offer Document is intended to be read in conjunction with the publicly available information in relation to the Company, which has been notified to ASX, and does not include information that would be included in a disclosure document or which investors ought to have regard to in deciding whether to subscribe for New Shares under the Offers. Investors should therefore have regard to the other publicly available information in relation to the Company before making a decision whether or not to invest.

All announcements made by the Company are available from its website www.horizongold.com.au or the ASX website www.asx.com.au.

Additionally, the Company is required to prepare and lodge with ASIC yearly and half-yearly financial statements accompanied by a directors' statement and report, and an audit report or review. These reports are released to ASX and published on the Company's and ASX websites.

This Offer Document (including the Entitlement and Acceptance Form) and the contracts that arise from the acceptance of the Applications are governed by the laws applicable in Western Australia and each applicant submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Western Australia.

1.25 Cleansing notice

The Company has lodged with ASX a notice in accordance with section 708AA of the Corporations Act. This notice may be reviewed on the websites of the Company and ASX.

Morgans Corporate Limited (Lead Manager) has been appointed as Lead Manager to the Entitlement Offer. The Lead Manager will be paid:

- a 2% management fee of the proceeds from the Placement and Entitlement Offer (including any Shortfall Offer); and

- a 4% selling fee from the proceeds of the Placement and Entitlement Offer (including any Shortfall Offer), excluding proceeds received from Zeta Resources Ltd and the Directors.

1.27 Shortfall Offer

Any New Shares under the Entitlement Offer that are not applied for will form the Shortfall Shares. The Directors reserve the right, subject to any restrictions imposed by the Corporations Act and Listing Rules, to issue the Shortfall Shares at their sole discretion. The offer to issue Shortfall Shares is a separate offer under this Offer Document (Shortfall Offer).

Under this Offer Document, the Company offers to issue the Shortfall Shares to eligible investors at the same price of $0.48 per New Share as that offered under the Entitlement Offer. The Shortfall Shares will have the same rights as the New Shares as detailed in Section 4.

The Shortfall Offer is only open to eligible investors invited by the Company to participate in the Shortfall Offer. Any New Shares not allocated to Eligible Shareholders may be placed to eligible investors in accordance with the terms of the Lead Manager agreement between the Company and the Lead Managers within three months after the close of the Entitlement Offer.

Shortfall Shares will be allocated at the absolute discretion of the Directors.

Shortfall Shares will not be offered or issued to any Applicant if, in the view of the Directors, to do so would increase that Applicant's Voting Power in the Company above 19.9% or otherwise result in a breach of the Listing Rules, the Corporations Act or any other applicable law.

An Application for Shortfall Shares accompanied by payment of Application Monies does not guarantee the allotment of any Shortfall Shares. The Shortfall Shares will be allocated within three months after the Closing Date.

The Company intends to apply the following allocation policy when allocating Shortfall Shares:

- the Shortfall Shares will only be issued to the extent there are sufficient New Shares from Eligible Shareholders who do not take up their full Entitlements or from New Shares that would have been offered to Ineligible Shareholders if they had been entitled to participate in the Offer;
- where the Directors consider it is in the best interests of the Company to allocate any portion of the Shortfall Shares to a particular Applicant or to particular Applicants in order to maximise the total funds raised from the Offer, the Directors may do so;
- subject to the above, the Directors will generally endeavour to allocate the Shortfall Shares in a manner which is fair to Applicants;
- the Directors will not allocate or issue Shortfall Shares, where it is aware that to do so would result in a breach of the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules or any other relevant legislation or law;
- applications for Shortfall Shares may be scaled back on a pro rata basis, which will be applied by the Company at the Company's discretion; and

- (f) the Directors may reject any application for Shortfall Shares or allocate fewer Shortfall Shares than applied for by Applicants, in which case any excess Application Monies will be refunded without interest.

3. Risk Factors

The New Shares offered under this Offer Document are considered speculative. The Directors strongly recommend Eligible Shareholders examine the contents of this Offer Document and consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for the New Shares pursuant to this Offer. In addition, Eligible Shareholders should be aware there are risks associated with investment in the Company. There are certain general risks and certain specific risks which relate directly to the Company's business and are largely beyond the control of the Company and its Directors because of the nature of the business of the Company.

The summary of risk factors described below ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by Eligible Shareholders. The risk factors described below, and others not specifically referred to below, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the New Shares offered under this Offer Document. The New Shares to be issued pursuant to this Offer Document carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of those New Shares.

3.1 Risks specific to the Company, the Entitlement Offer and the Shortfall Offer

(a) Tenure

Mining and exploration tenements for the Company's projects, and in particular its Project, are subject to periodic renewal. There is no guarantee that current or future tenements and/or applications for tenements will be approved.

The renewal of the term of a granted tenement is also subject to the discretion of the Minister for Mines and Petroleum, the Company's ability to meet the conditions imposed by relevant authorities including compliance with the Company's work program requirements which, in turn, is dependent on the Company being sufficiently funded to meet those expenditure requirements. The Project is subject to the Mining Act and Mining Regulations. Renewal conditions may include increased expenditure and work commitments or compulsory relinquishment of areas of the tenements comprising the Company's projects. The imposition of new conditions or the inability to meet those conditions may adversely affect the operations, financial position and/or performance of the Company.

Although the Company has no reason to think that its tenements will not be renewed, there is no assurance that such renewals will be given as a matter of course and there is no assurance that new conditions will not be imposed by the relevant granting authority. The Company considers the likelihood of tenure forfeiture to be low given the laws and regulations governing exploration in Western Australia and the ongoing expenditure budgeted for by the Company. However, the consequence of forfeiture or involuntary surrender of a granted tenement for reasons beyond the control of the Company could be significant.

The Company cannot give any assurance that title to the Company's tenements will not be challenged, cancelled or impugned for various reasons, including that they may be subject to prior unregistered agreements or transfers or title may be affected by undetected defects. There is no assurance that such rights and title interests will not be revoked or significantly altered to the detriment of the Company and there can be no assurances that third parties will not challenge the validity of the Company's title to any of the Company's tenements.

(b) Reliance on key personnel

The Company is reliant on a small number of key personnel and consultants. The loss of one or more of these key contributors could have an adverse impact on the business, including the Project.

It may be particularly difficult for the Company to attract and retain suitably qualified and experienced people, given the current high demand in the industry and relatively small size of the Company, compared to other industry participants.

The continued availability of consultants and advisers is to some extent dependent on maintaining the professional relationships that the Company's personnel have developed over time and which may be lost if key personnel cease to be involved with the Company before replacement arrangements can be made. If the involvement of key resource specialists, managers or other personnel cease for reasons of contract termination, ill health, death or disability, then technical programs and achievements may be adversely affected.

(c) Contractual risk

The operations of the Company require the involvement of a number of third parties including consultants, contractors and suppliers. Financial failure, default, disagreement, dispute or contractual non-compliance on the part of such third parties may have a material impact on the Company's operations and performance. It is not possible for the Company to predict or protect the Company against all such risks.

(d) Operating risks

The success of the Company in the short to medium term is dependent upon a number of factors, including the successful exploration and development of the Project.

Many of the Company's mineral assets are in a pre-development phase. As a result, the Company will be subject to all the risks inherent in the establishment of new mining operations. No assurances can be given to the level of viability that the Company's operations may achieve.

The prospects of the Company must be considered in light of the considerable risks, expenses and difficulties frequently encountered by companies in the early stage of mineral exploration and development activities.

Furthermore, as the Project of the Company has not commenced mining operations, there can be no guarantee that the business will operate in line with assumed cost structures. Should the level of costs required to operate the business be higher than anticipated then it may have a materially adverse effect on the future performance and prospects of the Company.

There can be no assurance that the Project will be profitable in the future. Should production commence, the operating expenses and capital expenditures of the project may increase in future years as targeted resources are more difficult to extract.

The amounts and timing of expenditures will depend on the progress of ongoing exploration and development, the results of consultants' analyses and recommendations, the rate at which operating losses are incurred, and other factors, many of which are beyond the Company's control.

The Company expects to incur losses unless and until such time as any new or current projects, including the Project, enter into commercial production and generate sufficient revenues to fund their continuing operations.

The development of the Project will require the commitment of substantial resources. There can be no assurance that the Company will generate any revenues or achieve profitability.

(e) New assets, projects and acquisitions

The Company's ability to generate revenue will depend on the Company being successful in exploring, identifying mineral resources and establishing mining operations in relation to the Project. Whilst the Directors have extensive industry experience, there is no guarantee that the Company will be successful in exploring and developing the Project.

The Company may make acquisitions in the future as part of future growth plans. In this regard, the Directors of the Company will use their expertise and experience in the resources sector to assess the value of potential projects that have characteristics that are likely to provide returns to Shareholders.

There can be no guarantee that any new project acquisition or investment will eventuate from these pursuits, or that any acquisitions will result in a return for Shareholders. Such acquisitions may result in use of the Company's cash resources and/or the issuance of equity securities, which will dilute shareholdings.

(f) Additional requirements for funding

It is anticipated that the Company's revenues will be primarily derived from mining, in particular, from the sale of gold. Consequently, any future earnings are likely to be closely related to the price of gold and the terms of any off-take agreements which the Company enters into.

The future capital requirements of the Company will depend on many factors including the results of any future exploration and work programs, and the ability to successfully exploit identified mineral deposits, including the Project. The Company believes its available cash and the net proceeds of the Entitlement Offer should be adequate to fund the continued exploration and development of the Project and other Company objectives as stated in the Entitlement Offer.

Should the Company require additional funding there can be no assurance that additional financing will be available on acceptable terms, or at all. Any inability to obtain additional finance, if required, would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and its financial condition and performance.

If less than the approximate $7 million is raised under the Offers, the Company will need to scale back funds available as outlined in Section 1.3. Furthermore, the Company may require further funding in addition to current cash reserves and proceeds from the Offers to fund exploration activities.

Additional equity financing, if available, may be dilutive to Shareholders and at lower prices than the current market price. Debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce the scope of its operations or anticipated expansion.

(g) Native Title risks

Some or all of the mining tenements held by the Company may be subject to native title claims in the future. Should a native title claim be lodged in respect to one of the Company's mining tenements, it may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and its financial condition and performance.

3.2 General risks associated with resource sector operations

The Company operates in the resources sector and is subject to risks relating to exploration, drilling and production of resources which may not generally be associated with other sectors.

The exploration and development of resources and successful project development is considered to be of a high-risk nature and involves inherent risks.

(a) Exploration and development risks

Resource exploration and development, in particular gold, involves significant risks which only occasionally provide high rewards. In addition to the normal competition for prospective ground, and the high costs of discovery and development of an economic deposit, factors such as demand for commodities, stock market fluctuations affecting access to new capital, sovereign risk, environmental issues, labour disruption, project financing, foreign currency fluctuations and technical problems all affect the ability of a company to profit from a discovery.

There is no assurance that exploration and development of the Project will result in the discovery of an economic mineral deposit. Even if an apparently viable deposit is identified, there is no guarantee that it can be profitably exploited.

The exploration for, and development of, mineral deposits involves a high degree of risk. Few properties which are explored are ultimately developed into producing mines. Resource exploration and development is a speculative business, characterised by a number of significant risks, including, among other things, unprofitable efforts resulting not only from the failure to discover mineral deposits, but also from finding mineral deposits that, although present, are insufficient in quantity and quality to return a profit from production. The marketability of minerals acquired or discovered by the Company may be affected by numerous factors that are beyond the control of the Company and that cannot be accurately predicted, such as market fluctuations, the proximity and capacity of milling facilities, mineral markets and processing equipment, and such other factors as government regulations, including regulations relating to royalties, allowable production, importing and exporting of minerals, and environmental protection, the combination of which factors may result in the Company not receiving an adequate return on investment capital.

Whether a mineral deposit will be commercially viable depends on a number of factors, which include, without limitation, the particular attributes of the deposit, such as size, grade and proximity to infrastructure, metal prices, which fluctuate widely, and government regulations, including, without limitation, regulations relating to prices, taxes, royalties, land tenure, land use, importing and exporting of minerals and environmental protection. The combination of these factors may result in the Company expending significant resources (financial and otherwise) on a property without receiving a return. There is no certainty that expenditures made by the Company towards the search and evaluation of mineral deposits will result in the discovery of an economically viable mineral deposit.

The Company has relied on, and may continue to rely on, consultants and others for mineral exploration and exploitation expertise. The Company believes that those consultants and others are competent and that they have carried out their work in accordance with internationally recognised industry standards. However, if the work conducted by those consultants or others is ultimately found to be incorrect or inadequate in any material respect, the Company may experience delays or increased costs in developing its properties.

There can be no assurance that the Company's mineral exploration activities will be successful. If such commercial viability is never attained, the Company may seek to transfer its property interests or otherwise realise value or may even be required to abandon its business and fail as a "going concern".

(b) Reserve and resource estimates

Ore reserve and mineral resource estimates are an expression of judgment based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates that were valid when made may change significantly when new information becomes available.

In addition, reserve estimates are necessarily imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove inaccurate. Should the Company encounter mineral deposits or formations different from those predicted by past drilling, sampling and similar examinations, reserve estimates may have to be adjusted and production plans may have to be altered in a way which could adversely affect the Company's operations.

Ore reserve and mineral resource estimates are expressions of judgment based on drilling results, past experience with mining properties, knowledge, experience, industry practice and many other factors. Estimates which are valid when made may change substantially when new information becomes available.

Ore estimation is an interpretive process based on available data and interpretations and thus estimations may prove to be inaccurate.

The actual quality and characteristics of ore deposits cannot be known until mining takes place, and will almost always differ from the assumptions used to develop resources. Further, ore reserves are valued based on future costs and future prices and consequently, the actual ore reserves and mineral resources may differ from those estimated, which may result in either a positive or negative effect on operations.

Should the Project encounter mineralisation or formations different from those predicted by past drilling, sampling and similar examinations, resource estimates may have to be adjusted and mining plans may have to be altered in a way which could adversely affect the Company's operations.

(c) Results of studies

Subject to the results of any future exploration and testing programs, the Company may progressively undertake a number of studies in respect to the Project. These studies may include scoping studies, pre-feasibility studies and bankable feasibility studies.

These studies will be completed within certain parameters designed to determine the economic feasibility of the relevant project within certain limits. There can be no guarantee that any of the studies will confirm the economic viability of the Project or the results of other studies undertaken by the Company (e.g. the results of a feasibility study may materially differ to the results of a scoping study).

Further, even if a study determines the economics of the Project, there can be no guarantee that the projects will be successfully brought into production as assumed or within the estimated parameters in the feasibility study, once production commences including but not limited to operating costs, mineral recoveries and commodity prices. In addition, the ability of the Company to complete a study may be dependent on the Company's ability to raise further funds to complete the study if required.

(d) Payment obligations

Under the prospecting licences and certain other contractual agreements to which the Company is or may in the future become party to, the Project may, or may become, subject to payment and other obligations. Failure to meet these payments and obligations may render the Project liable to be cancelled. Further, if any contractual obligations are not complied with when due, in addition to any other remedies which may be available to other parties, this could result in dilution or forfeiture of interests held by the Company.

(e) Operating risks

The operations of the Company may be affected by various factors which are beyond the control of the Company, including failure to locate or identify mineral deposits, failure to achieve predicted grades in exploration or mining, operational and technical difficulties encountered in mining, difficulties in commissioning and operating plant and equipment, mechanical failure or plant breakdown, unanticipated metallurgical problems which may affect extraction costs, adverse weather conditions (including climate change), industrial and environmental accidents, industrial disputes and unexpected shortages, delays in procuring, or increases in the costs of consumables, spare parts, plant and equipment, fire, explosions and other incidents beyond the control of the Company.

These risks and hazards could also result in damage to, or destruction of, production facilities, personal injury, environmental damage, business interruption, monetary losses and possible legal liability. While the Company currently intends to maintain insurance within ranges of coverage consistent with industry practice, no assurance can be given that the Company will be able to obtain such insurance coverage at reasonable rates (or at all), or that any coverage it obtains will be adequate and available to cover any such claims.

(f) Commercialisation of discoveries and mine development

It may not always be possible for the Company to participate in the exploitation of any successful discoveries, which may be made in any projects in which the Company has an interest, including the Project. Such exploitation will involve the need to obtain the necessary licences or clearances from the relevant authorities, which may require conditions to be satisfied and/or the exercise of discretions by such authorities. It may or may not be possible for such conditions to be satisfied. Further, the decision to proceed to further exploitation may require the participation of other companies whose interests and objectives may not be the same as the Company. As described above, such further work may require the Company to meet or commit to financing obligations for which it may not have planned.

Possible future development of mining operations at the Project or other tenements applied for or acquired by the Company is dependent on a number of factors including, but not limited to, the acquisition and/or delineation of economically recoverable mineralisation, favourable geological conditions, receiving the necessary approvals from all relevant authorities and parties, seasonal weather patterns (including due to climate change), unanticipated technical and operational difficulties encountered in extraction and production activities, mechanical failure of operating plant and equipment, shortages or increases in the price of consumables, spare parts and plant and equipment, cost overruns, access to the required level of funding and contracting risk from third parties providing essential services.

If the Company commences production on the Project, or future projects, its operations may be disrupted by a variety of risks and hazards which are beyond the control of the Company. No assurance can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the development of existing or future projects.

(g) Commodity price volatility

The demand for, and price for commodities is highly dependent on a variety of factors, including international supply and demand, the level of consumer product demand, weather conditions, the price and availability of alternative fuels, actions taken by governments and international cartels, and global economic and political developments.

Commodity prices have fluctuated widely in recent years and may continue to fluctuate significantly in the future. Fluctuations in commodity prices, and, in particular, a material decline in the price of commodities, may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The price of commodities fluctuate widely and are affected by numerous factors beyond the control of the Company, such as industrial and retail supply and demand, exchange rates, inflation rates, changes in global economies, confidence in the global monetary scheme, forward sales of metals by producers and speculators as well as other global or regional political, social or economic events. The supply of these resources consists of a combination of new mine production and existing stocks held by governments, producers, speculators and consumers.

Future production, if any, from the Project will be dependent upon the price of the resources being adequate to make the project economic. Future price declines in the market value of the commodity could cause continued development of, and eventually commercial production from, the project to be rendered uneconomic. Depending on the price of the commodity, the Company could be forced to discontinue production or development and may lose its interest in, or may be forced to sell, the project. There is no assurance that, even if commercial quantities of the resource are produced, a profitable market will exist for them.

In addition to adversely affecting future reserve estimates, if any, of any project, declining commodity prices can impact operations by requiring a reassessment of the feasibility of the project. Such a reassessment may be the result of a management decision or may be required under financing arrangements related to the project. Even if the project is ultimately determined to be economically viable, the need to conduct such a reassessment may cause substantial delays or may interrupt operations until the reassessment can be completed.

(h) Drilling risks

The Company's future drilling operations at the Project may be curtailed, delayed or cancelled due to a number of factors including weather conditions, mechanical difficulties, shortage or delays in the delivery of rigs and/or other equipment and compliance with governmental requirements. While drilling may yield some resources there can be no guarantee that the discovery will be sufficiently productive to justify commercial development or cover operating costs. Completion of drill hole does not assure profit on the investment or recovery of drilling, completion and operating costs.

(i) Force majeure

The Project now or in the future may be adversely affected by risks outside the control of the Company including weather conditions, pandemics, epidemics or quarantine restrictions (eg COVID-19 related disruptions), labour unrest, civil disorder, war, subversive activities or sabotage, fires, floods, explosions or other catastrophes.

(j) Insurance

Insurance of all risks associated with resource exploration and production is not always available and, where it is available, the cost may be high. The Company will have insurance in place that is considered appropriate for the Company's needs.

The business of the Company is subject to a number of risks and hazards generally, including adverse environmental conditions, industrial accidents, labour disputes, unusual or unexpected geological conditions, ground or slope failures, cave-ins, changes in the regulatory environment and natural phenomena such as inclement weather conditions, floods and earthquakes. Such occurrences could result in damage to mineral properties or production facilities, personal injury or death, environmental damage to properties of the Company or others, delays in mining, monetary losses and possible legal liability.

Although the Company maintains insurance to protect against certain risks in such amounts as it considers to be reasonable, its insurance will not cover all the potential risks associated with its operations and insurance coverage may not continue to be available or may not be adequate to cover any resulting liability.

It is not always possible to obtain insurance against all such risks and the Company may decide not to insure against certain risks because of high premiums or other reasons. Moreover, insurance against risks such as environmental pollution or other hazards as a result of exploration and production is not generally available to the Company or to other companies in the mining industry on acceptable terms. Losses from these events may cause the Company to incur significant costs that could have a material adverse effect upon its financial performance and results of operations.

(k) Environmental risk

The Project and the Company's other projects are subject to State and Federal laws and regulations regarding environmental matters. The respective Governments and other authorities that administer and enforce environmental laws and regulations determine these requirements. As with all exploration projects and mining operations, the Company's activities are expected to have an impact on the environment, particularly if the Company's activities result in mine development. The Company intends to conduct its activities in an environmentally responsible manner and in accordance with applicable laws.

The cost and complexity of complying with the applicable environmental laws and regulations may prevent the Company from being able to develop potentially economically viable mineral deposits.

Further, the Company may require additional approvals from the relevant authorities before it can undertake activities that are likely to impact the environment. Failure to obtain such approvals will prevent the Company from undertaking its desired activities. The Company is unable to predict the effect of additional environmental laws and regulations which may be adopted in the future, including whether any such laws or regulations would materially increase the Company's cost of doing business or affect its operations in any area.

There can be no assurances that new environmental laws, regulations or stricter enforcement policies, once implemented, will not oblige the Company to incur significant expenses and undertake significant investments which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations.

(l) Occupational health and safety risk

The Company is committed to providing a healthy and safe environment for its personnel, contractors and visitors. However, mining activities have inherent risks and hazards. While the Company provides appropriate instructions, equipment, preventative measures, first aid information and training to all stakeholders through its occupational, health and safety management systems, health and safety incidents may nevertheless occur. Any illness, personal injury, death or damage to property resulting from the Company's activities may lead to a claim against the Company.

(m) Equipment access

High local, regional or global demand for exploration and development equipment and infrastructure (as currently experienced globally) and experienced operators of this equipment may adversely affect the Company's operations. The Company may not always have access to experienced crews, drill rigs, and operators and this may cause delays in the Company's exploration and development programs, which may result in increased costs in relation to the Project.

3.3 General risks

(a) Securities investment

There are risks associated with any securities investment. The prices at which the Securities trade may fluctuate in response to a number of factors.

Furthermore, the stock market, and in particular the market for resource exploration companies, has experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have often been unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of such companies. There can be no guarantee that these trading prices will be sustained. These factors may materially affect the market price of the Securities regardless of the Company's operational performance.

(b) Share market conditions

Share market conditions may affect the value of the Securities, regardless of the Company's operating performance. Share market conditions are affected by many factors such as:

- (i) general economic outlook;
- (ii) interest rates and inflation rates;
- (iii) changes in investor sentiment toward particular market sectors;
- (iv) the demand for, and supply of, capital; and
- (v) terrorism or other hostilities.

The market price of securities can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and resource exploration stocks in particular. Neither the Company nor the Directors warrant the future performance of the Company or any return on an investment in the Company.

(c) Economic risk

Changes in the general economic climate in which the Company operates may adversely affect the financial performance of the Company. Factors that may contribute to that general economic climate include the level of direct and indirect competition against the Company, industrial disruption, the rate of growth of gross domestic product in Australia, or any other country in which the Company operates, interest rates and the rate of inflation.

(d) Changes in government legislation and regulation

Changes in government, monetary policies, taxation and other laws can have a significant impact on the Company's assets, operations and ultimately the financial performance of the Company and its Shares. Such changes are likely to be beyond the control of the Company and may affect industry profitability as well as the Company's capacity to explore and mine.

The Company is not aware of any reviews or changes that would affect its current or proposed interests in tenements. However, changes in political and community attitudes on matters such as taxation, competition policy and environmental issues may bring about reviews and possibly changes in government policies. There is a risk that such changes may affect the Company's exploration and/or development plans or its rights and obligations in respect of the tenements in which it holds interests. Any such government action may also require increased capital or operating expenditures and could prevent or delay certain operations by the Company.

(e) Competition

The Company will compete with other companies, including major resource companies. Some of these companies have greater financial and other resources than the Company and, as a result, may be in a better position to compete for future business opportunities. Many of the Company's competitors not only explore for and produce resources, but also carry out refining operations and market their and other products on a worldwide basis. There can be no assurance that the Company can compete effectively with these companies.

(f) Litigation risks

The Company is exposed to possible litigation risks including native title claims, tenure disputes, environmental claims, occupational health and safety claims and employee claims. Further, the Company may be involved in disputes with other parties in the future which may result in litigation. Any such claim or dispute if proven, may impact adversely on the Company's operations, financial performance and financial position. To the best of the current Directors' knowledge, the Company is not currently engaged in any material litigation.

(g) Taxation

The acquisition and disposal of Shares will have tax consequences, which will differ depending on the individual financial affairs of each investor. All potential investors in the Company are urged to obtain independent financial advice about the consequences of acquiring Shares from a taxation point of view and generally.

To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Company, its officers and each of their respective advisers accept no liability and responsibility with respect to the taxation consequences of applying for Shares under this Offer Document.

(h) Climate change risk

Climate change is a risk the Company has considered, particularly related to its operations in the mining industry. The climate change risks particularly attributable to the Company include:

- (i) the emergence of new or expanded regulations associated with the transitioning to a lower-carbon economy and market changes related to climate change mitigation. The Company may be impacted by changes to local or international compliance regulations related to climate change mitigation efforts, or by specific taxation or penalties for carbon emissions or environmental damage. These examples sit amongst an array of possible restraints on industry that may further impact the Company and its profitability. While the Company will endeavour to manage these risks and limit any consequential impacts, there can be no guarantee that the Company will not be impacted by these occurrences; and
- (ii) climate change may cause certain physical and environmental risks that cannot be predicted by the Company, including events such as increased severity of weather patterns and incidence of extreme weather events and longer-term physical risks such as shifting climate patterns. All these risks associated with climate change may significantly change the industry in which the Company operates.

3.4 Investment highly speculative

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the New Shares offered under this Offer Document. Therefore, the New Shares to be issued pursuant to this Offer Document carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of those New Shares. Potential investors should consider that the investment in the Company is speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for New Shares pursuant to this Offer Document.

4. Rights attaching to New Shares

4.1 General

The New Shares to be issued pursuant to this Offer Document are fully paid ordinary shares in the capital of the Company and will, as from their allotment, rank equally in all respects with all existing Shares.

The rights attaching to the Shares arise from a combination of the Constitution, statute and general law. Copies of the Constitution are available for inspection during business hours at the Company's registered office. The Constitution has been lodged with ASIC.

A summary of the more significant rights is detailed below. This summary is not exhaustive nor does it constitute a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of Shareholders.

(a) General meetings

Directors may call a meeting of Shareholders whenever they think fit. Shareholders may requisition meetings in accordance with Section 249D of the Corporations Act and the Constitution. A Directors' meeting may be held in two or more places linked together by technology. A quorum for a meeting of Shareholders is two eligible voters.

The Company will hold annual general meetings in accordance with the Corporations Act.

Shareholders are entitled to be present in person, or by proxy, attorney or representative to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company.

(b) Voting rights

Subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any class or classes of Shares, at general meetings of Shareholders or classes of Shareholders:

- (i) each Shareholder entitled to vote may vote in person or by proxy, attorney or representative;
- (ii) on a show of hands, every person present who is a Shareholder or a proxy, attorney or representative of a Shareholder has one vote; and
- (iii) on a poll, every person present who is a Shareholder or a proxy, attorney or representative of a Shareholder shall, in respect of each fully paid Share held by him, or in respect of which he is appointed a proxy, attorney or representative, have one vote for the Share, but in respect of partly paid Shares shall have such number of votes as bears the same proportion to the total of such Shares registered in the Shareholder's name as the amount paid (not credited) bears to the total amounts paid and payable (excluding amounts credited).

(c) Dividend rights

Subject to the rights of any preference Shareholders and to the rights of the holders of any Shares created or raised under any special arrangement as to dividend, the Directors may from time to time declare a dividend to be paid to the Shareholders entitled to the dividend which shall be payable on all Shares according to the proportion that the amount paid (not credited) is of the total amounts paid and payable (excluding amounts credited) in respect of such Shares.

The Directors may from time to time pay to the Shareholders any interim dividends as they may determine. No dividend shall carry interest as against the Company. The Directors may set aside out of the profits of the Company any amounts that they may determine as reserves, to be applied at the discretion of the Directors, for any purpose for which the profits of the Company may be properly applied.

Subject to the Listing Rules and the Corporations Act, the Company may, by resolution of the Directors, implement a dividend reinvestment plan on such terms and conditions as the Directors think fit and which provides for any dividend which the Directors may declare from time to time payable on Shares which are participating Shares in the dividend reinvestment plan, less any amount which the Company shall either pursuant to the Constitution or any law be entitled or obliged to retain, be applied by the Company to the payment of the subscription price of Shares.

(d) Winding up

If the Company is wound up, the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution of the Company, divide among the Shareholders in kind the whole or any part of the property of the Company, and may for that purpose set such value as he considers fair upon any property to be so divided, and may determine how the division is to be carried out as between the Shareholders or different classes of Shareholders.

The liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution of the Company, vest the whole or any part of any such property in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of the contributories as the liquidator thinks fit, but so that no Shareholder is compelled to accept any Shares or other securities in respect of which there is any liability.

(e) Shareholder liability

As the New Shares under the Entitlement Offer are fully paid shares, they are not subject to any calls for money by the Directors and will therefore not become liable for forfeiture.

(f) Transfer of Shares

Generally, Shares are freely transferable, subject to formal requirements, the registration of the transfer not resulting in a contravention of or failure to observe the provisions of a law of Australia and the transfer not being in breach of the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

(g) Issue of further Shares

The Directors may, subject to any restrictions imposed by the Constitution and the Corporations Act, allot, issue, grant options over, or otherwise dispose of, further Shares with or without preferential rights on such terms and conditions as they see fit.

(h) Directors

The business of the Company is to be managed by or under the direction of the Directors.

Directors are not required under the Constitution to hold any Shares.

The minimum number of Directors is three. The number of Directors may be changed by the Company in general meeting provided that the minimum is not less than three. The existing Directors may appoint a new Director to fill a casual vacancy or as an addition to the Board. Any such Director must retire at the next annual general meeting of the Company following their appointment (at which meeting he or she may be eligible for election as a Director).

The Constitution contains provisions relating to the rotation and election of directors. No Director other than the Managing Director of the Company may hold office later than the third annual general meeting after his or her appointment or election, without submitting himself or herself for re-election.

(i) Variation of rights

Pursuant to section 246B of the Corporations Act, the Company may, with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a meeting of Shareholders vary or abrogate the rights attaching to Shares.

If at any time the share capital is divided into different classes of Shares, the rights attached to any class (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class), whether or not the Company is being wound up, may be varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of three-quarters of the issued shares of that class, or if authorised by a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the shares of that class.

(j) Unmarketable parcels

The Company may procure the disposal of Shares where the member holds less than a marketable parcel of Shares within the meaning of the Listing Rules (being a parcel of Shares with a market value of less than $500). To invoke this procedure, the Directors must first give notice to the relevant member holding less than a marketable parcel of Shares, who may then elect not to have his or her Shares sold by notifying the Directors.

(k) Share buy-backs

The Company may buy-back Shares in itself in accordance with the provisions of the Corporations Act

(l) Indemnity and insurance of officers

Under the Constitution, the Company is obliged, to the extent permitted by law, to indemnify an officer (including Directors) of the Company against liabilities incurred by the officer in that capacity, against costs and expenses incurred by the officer in successfully defending civil or criminal proceedings, and against any liability which arises out of conduct not involving a lack of good faith.

To the extent permitted by law, the Company may also pay the premium on any insurance policy for any person who is or has been, an officer against a liability incurred by that person in his or her capacity as an officer of the Company, provided that the liability does not arise out of conduct involving a wilful breach of duty.

(m) Alteration of Constitution

The Constitution can only be amended by a special resolution passed by at least three quarters of Shareholders present and voting at the general meeting. In addition, at least 28 days written notice specifying the intention to propose the resolution as a special resolution must be given.

(n) Listing Rules

Provided the Company remains admitted to the official list of the ASX, then despite anything in the Constitution, no act may be done that is prohibited by the Listing Rules, and authority is given for acts required to be done by the Listing Rules. The Constitution will be deemed to comply with the Listing Rules, as amended from time to time.
